

CUSTOM and HANINDO: new branch office in Shenzhen

Parma - Shanghai (China), 15th September 2011

The Partnership, born four years ago in China, between the Italian Company CUSTOM Engineering Spa and Hanindo China, widens its horizons and operative sectors opening the second branch office in Shenzhen City, in Guangdong county.

So, after Shanghai, an other important high-density industrial region is directly served by Custom/Hanindo, offering a technical and commercial support addressed to the local companies. The purpose of this new branch office is to improve and speed up the technical/commercial service offered to the Customers, which always more often choose Custom products' quality, performance and design.

Custom Engineering Spa is one of the few Italian companies which produces in Europe and sells in China.

Here following the new office details:
